

Fit, Focus & Flair

Presentation checklist

Puig Communication Skills Masterclass

Work through each stage of the presentation you will bring to Barcelona. Tick it when it is done and strong. Use the notes line to capture the actual words, so you leave with a draft.

Fit · build the message around the audience

- ☐ Audience: who is in the room, what they care about, what they need to hear, and what to cut.

Notes:

- ☐ Statement of intent: after my presentation, what should they Know, Understand and Do?

Know:

Understand:

Do:

Fit passes when

- ☐ I can name most of the key people in the audience and what they need from me.
- ☐ I know why this is relevant or important to them.
- ☐ I have decided what to leave out.

Focus · get your story straight

- ☐ Single-sentence message: the argument in one sentence.

Notes:

- ☐ Three-act story: each act with a headline that moves the argument forward.

WHY (context and challenge, why now):

HOW (the journey, in two or three points):

WHAT (the result and the first step):

- ☐ Soundbite or killer statistic: the one line or fact they will remember after everything else has gone.

Notes:

Focus passes when

- ☐ I am clear on the argument that I am making and summarise it in one sentence.
- ☐ The three-act outline is clear.
- ☐ The story delivers on the promise of that sentence.

Flair · make it land and stick

- ☐ Prologue, the golden minute: the big idea, why now, what to expect, and what you need from them.

Notes:

- ☐ Headlines and signposts: a repeatable headline for each act, and two or three signpost lines for the middle.

Notes:

- ☐ Epilogue: restate the point and the next step, and return to where you began.

Notes:

- ☐ Slides: one idea per slide, the three-second test, the headline carries the meaning.

Notes:

Flair passes when

- ☐ The first minute states the big idea, why now, and what you need.
- ☐ Each act has a headline a listener could repeat.
- ☐ Each slide delivers one idea and the message, not your notes.
- ☐ Each slide passes the three-second test.
- ☐ The ending returns to the opening and states the next step.

Before Barcelona · the final check

- ☐ Will the audience understand why this matters to them, in the first minute?
- ☐ Are you clear on your 3-act story?
- ☐ Have you removed unnecessary visual and verbal detail (clutter)?
- ☐ Is the decision, and/or the next step for the audience, clear?
- ☐ When they have forgotten everything else what one thing do you want them to remember:

Notes: write it here.
